Priests for Life hosts Hope Alive training conference

This fall, the Titusville, Florida, headquarters of Priests for Life was the setting for a worldwide training in healing after abortion. Priests for Life welcomed Dr. Philip Ney and hosted the Hope Alive training course and the annual general conference of the International Hope Alive Counselors Association. Hope Alive is a healing program for anyone impacted by child abuse or neglect, or abortion – this includes parents, sibling survivors, grandparents, and beyond.

Priests for Life Executive Director Janet Morana is a certified Hope Alive counselor and has enjoyed a long relationship with its founders, Dr. Philip Ney and Dr. Marie Peeters-Ney. Their work was cited in her book, Shockwaves: Abortion's Wider Circle of Victims.

The level-one training was attended by a dozen people, including those who traveled from Nigeria, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Texas, Illinois and Pennsylvania. Dr. Ney led the training, with the help of experienced facilitators.

"The training was so successful that we're going to do it again next year, beginning on Oct. 20," said Mrs. Morana. For more info, email janet@silentnomore.com.

Rachel's Vineyard Leadership Conference-continued from Page 1

Rachel's Vineyard, welcomed participants in the International Leadership Conference that was held from September 24-27, 2018 at the Malvern Retreat House in Pennsylvania.

Over 200 participants attended with several dozen clergy, deacons, and pastors. Over 50 presentations were offered with 5 tracks plus Interdenominational Services, Holy Hours, and daily Mass and confession.

The Conference Theme was "Touched by Mercy, Moved By Love". Inspirational Keynotes were given by Father Dominic Allain, Father Frank Pavone, Dr. Theresa Burke, and presentations as well as special interest workshops relevant to their work with those who have suffered trauma.

The integral relationship between Rachel's Vineyard, Priests for Life, and the Silent No More Awareness Campaign (a joint project of Priests for Life and Anglicans for Life) was highlighted by the special track of workshops specifically focused on Silent No More. Co-founders Janet Morana (Executive Director of Priests for Life) and Georgette Forney (President, Anglicans for Life) led that track of workshops, along with Fr. Frank Pavone, Pastoral Director. The value of testimony, and the shockwaves of abortion that harm the entire family and beyond, were among the topics in this track (see AbortionShockwaves.com).

Among other topics in the conference were prison ministry; ritual abuse; men and abortion; sleep deprivation and mental health; using the media; and various practical dimensions of running and promoting the retreats.

The conference also welcomed the Grief to Grace Leadership Teams dedicated to healing the wounds of abuse. This ministry, also founded by Dr. Theresa Burke, continues to grow worldwide.

Rachel's Vineyard co-founder speaks at event in Diocese of Orlando Priests for Life Pastoral Associate and Rachel's Vineyard Co-Founder Kevin Burke was the guest speaker at Holy Name of Jesus Parish in Indialantic, Florida, in the Diocese of Orlando.

Mr. Burke spoke at a special brunch organized by the Pro-Life Ministry of the parish, and was warmly welcomed by the pastor, associate pastor, and pastor emeritus.

The presentation included compelling video testimonies of women and men sharing about their abortion loss and healing, and presented to the parish the benefits of Rachel's Vineyard, a ministry of Priests for Life and the largest ministry in the world for healing after abortion.

The 2020 Election Season is Underway!
by Fr. Frank Pavone, National Director

Congratulations to all of you who worked so hard along with us and many other groups for the 2018 midterm elections! Although the House changes hands to pro-abortion control, the pro-life cause made gains in the Senate (which hardly ever happens in the midterms).

The increased U.S. Senate majority ensures that President Trump will be able to continue making the courts great again, appointing pro-life federal judges as he promised. This will be the greatest and most long-lasting victory of this election.

There was good news in the states, too. Alabama and West Virginia both passed amendments to their state constitutions, asserting that there is no right to abortion contained in those documents, and ensuring that taxpayers do not have to pay for abortions through their state's Medicaid program.

But now we must begin our efforts for the 2020 elections, which will see the re-election of President Trump and pro-life majorities in both the House and Senate, among other victories. We are building an army of grassroots volunteers, and building upon this year's very successful voter training seminars, offered in key states and online.

We have also launched a petition (PoliticalResponsibility.com/petition) demanding that House Democrats in the upcoming 116th Congress carry out their job description, which is to legislate, rather than waste the time and resources of the American people with needless investigations, subpoenas of other government officials, and silly talk about impeachment.

Let's move forward to more and more victories!

Some Recent Praise for our Work

Father... I will send you a check every month. I would rather go without regular meals than to miss this... you have my word. I am a great admirer of you and all the staff at PFL. God bless all of you. We are winning this fight!

- David, Indiana

(If it weren't for) Priests for Life/Rachel's Vineyard I would have attempted suicide more than once. I would have made sure that I succeeded the second time.
