Honor and meet pro-life heroes at January 19 National Prayer Service

As you are making your plans to attend the March for Life in Washington, D.C., don't forget to add the National Prayer Service to your itinerary so you can help Priests for Life honor the 2024 winners of the National Pro-Life Recognition Award.

The 29th annual interdenominational service will take place from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. on the morning of the March - Jan. 19 – at Constitution Hall, 1776 D. St. NW. A Catholic Mass will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m.

This year's honorees are:

- Most Rev. Joseph Strickland is perhaps the most outspoken bishop in the Catholic Church on the topic of abortion.
- Mark Houck is a longtime pro-life activist who beat the Biden administration at its own sinister game when he was acquitted of violating the federal Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances Act.

The Eucharist and the Unborn

In these months, the Catholic Church in the United States is fostering deeper devotion to the Eucharist. Priests for Life teaches how this leads to deeper devotion to the unborn.

Pro-life Leader Frank Pavone: Five Talking Points About the Ballot Initiatives

(Full article in Gateway Pundit, Oct. 12, 2023)

Throughout the nation, abortion advocates are putting measures in place to invent a “right to abortion” in their state constitutions. Unfortunately, last November, Ohio voters passed such a ballot referendum. Several states are expected to put this issue to voters in 2024.

Here are a few things to keep in mind when discussing this effort:

1. This is a sign of weakness. If you think this is a sign of the strength of the abortion “rights” movement, think again. If they really believed their own rhetoric that most people are on their side, they would simply introduce a law, as the Dobbs decision says they can do, and make abortion as widely available as they and the citizens and lawmakers who agree with them want.

2. Americans oppose unlimited abortion. Choose whatever poll you want stretching all the way back to the start of Roe vs. Wade, and you will see the American people have never supported a policy of unrestricted abortion. Most Americans want more protection for the unborn, not less. These Constitutional amendments are marked by the theme that abortion is a fundamental right, and therefore should not be restricted either by time or any other conditions, including parental involvement in a minor’s abortion.

Priests for Life leads ‘Decline to Sign’ training for Florida

Abortion advocates in Florida are busy trying to collect close to 900,000 signatures from state residents to allow a proposed change to the Florida constitution to be voted on in the 2024 election.

To counter those efforts, Priests for Life hosted a Decline to Sign training at our Titusville headquarters, with attendees coming from all over the state. Andrew Shirvell, JD, founder and executive director of Florida Voice for the Unborn, joined with National Director Frank Pavone and Executive Director Janet Morana to conduct the training.

That alone, if brought to the attention of voters, is enough to persuade many of them to reject these amendments.

3. The “abortion right” does not exist. A central argument of the Dobbs decision of the Supreme Court regarding a “constitutional right to abortion” is summed up in three words: “It’s not there!” As the Court said, “Until the latter part of the 20th century, there was no support in American law for a constitutional right to obtain an abortion. No state constitutional provision had recognized such a right. Until a few years before Roe, no federal or state court had recognized such a right. Nor had any scholarly treatise. Indeed, abortion had long been a crime in every single State” (p. 3). This observation obviously carries as much weight on the state level as on the federal level.

4. Show the American people what an abortion is. Anything can be justified by words, by complex arguments, and by slick advertising. In my 30 years of national pro-life leadership, I have yet to find anything more powerful or persuasive to make the pro-life case than the photos of what abortion is, as you see at sites like LookAtAbortion.com.

5. Every state battle needs to be a national battle. The pro-abortion groups bring in money, door-knockers, and advertising agencies from across the nation. The pro-life groups need to do the same. The battle rages. But that is how it has always been. As was said in the civil rights movement, no lie can live forever. That includes the lie of abortion.

The Florida amendment would not only invent and impose unlimited abortion in the state constitution, but would eliminate the requirement for parental consent for minor girls, encourage expansion of abortion businesses in the state and prohibit reasonable protections for mothers.

Paid workers are canvassing the state to get people to sign and they are not in any way above lying to get those signatures. If you are a Floridian, decline to sign. If you don’t live here, please spread the word to everyone you know who calls the Sunshine State home.

We can’t let Florida be the only state in the Deep South that allows the unrestricted murder of precious unborn babies.

Honor pro-life heroes

- Mark Lee Dickson, is the director of Right to Life of East Texas and the founder of the Sanctuary Cities movement, which enables cities and counties to declare their municipalities abortion-free.
- Sister Deirdre Byrne, POSC – aka Sister DeDe – is a surgeon and retired U.S. Army colonel whose electrifying pro-life speech at the 2020 Republican National Convention was ground-breaking and unforgettable.

A meet-and-greet after the service will give attendees a chance to talk to these pro-life heroes and get a photo with them.

The service is free and tickets are not required, but it is nice to know if you're coming, so we ask you to go to NationalPrayerService.com and fill out the RSVP form.
