America, and the lives of the unborn, are on the line this Election Day

This newsletter had to be at the printer well before Election Day but if it reaches you before Nov. 6 and you have not voted yet, please make sure you do. Take advantage of early voting if that option is available in your state. Voting early can even increase the security of your vote.

As for the outcomes of the election, track them with us, together with commentary and prayer, on our program Praying for America each weeknight at 8 p.m. ET on EndAbortion. TV and the other platforms linked from there. You'll also find election analysis on our main election page, ProLifeVote.com.

Win or lose, the work of the pro-life movement goes on from wherever we find ourselves on November 6th. Where we gain ground, we will continue guarding and building on what we win. Where the other side gains ground, we begin immediately our plans and activities to take it back from them.

If pro-abortion candidates get elected, we work at once to defeat them in the next election. And if abortion amendments pass in some states, we get to work at once to take them back out of those state constitutions.

Ten states are asking voters if they want to impose a right to unlimited, unregulated abortion in their states - including some where most babies have been protected from abortion since soon after the overturning of Roe v. Wade in 2022.

Executive director reaches millions of Bott listeners with a pro-life message

Priests for Life has had a long and mutually beneficial relationship with Bott Radio, a network of 120 Christian stations whose message reaches 64 million people in 16 states.

Founded in 1962 by Dick and Sherley Bott, it was one of just a few Christian radio stations not run by individual churches. Their son, Richard Bott II, now serves as CEO of the network, whose programming also is available on mobile apps and internet-based radio providers.

For years, Priests for Life has produced daily pro-life radio spots for the network.

At the National Religious Broadcasters conference in 2023, Bott Radio honored Priests for Life National Director Frank Pavone with the Faithful Service Award.

This past summer, Bott invited Priests for Life Executive Director

Stand True/Priests for Life announce pro-life essay contest for students

Stand True, the youth outreach of Priests for Life, has launched a pro-life essay contest for students in junior high through college.

Students are invited to submit essays of 500-800 words on the following topics:

For junior high and high school students - Be My Vote for the Unborn, which would explore the ways even those too young to vote, or brand-new voters, can help influence an election.

For college students - The Duty to Vote Pro-life, which asks writers to convey persuasive reasons why pro-life people need to vote and how the abortion issue affects their vote.

The winner in the college-level competition will be awarded $1,000, have his or her essay published in the Priests for Life newsletter and be interviewed on one of our EndAbortion.TV broadcasts.

The high school category comes with a $500 cash prize.

The winner of the junior high contest will receive $300.

High school and junior high winners also will be interviewed on EndAbortion.TV.

Essays must be received by Nov. 15, and may be mailed or sent electronically. Complete contest rules and eligibility requirements can be found at StandTrue.com/EssayContest.

"We are so excited to be launching this annual essay contest," said Bryan Kemper, founder and president of Stand True and a member of the Priests for Life Pastoral Team. "Young people are not only the future of the pro-life movement but their influence is important right now."

The contest "will give young writers a chance to use their skills to motivate and educate pro-life youth across the country," said Priests for Life National Director Frank Pavone.

Executive Director Janet Morana, a former public school teacher, said the contest should help hone students' ability to articulate a pro-life point of view.

"The babies need young people to be able to speak up for them to their peers," she said. "I look forward to reading these entries."

New children's book imagines a heavenly celebration of Christmas

Have you ever wondered what Christmas is like in heaven?

Best-selling author Anthony DeStefano's newest book for children, Christmas in Heaven, answers that question.

With breathtaking illustrations by Bernadette Carstensen, the book is a conversation between a young boy and his grandfather about how the boy's beloved and much-missed grandmother is marking the day of Jesus's birth in heaven.

Everyone is there! St. Joseph is building a manger; St. Peter is welcoming guests into the gates; St. Nick is unloading toys from his sleigh; St. John is busy lighting 2,000 candles on a huge birthday cake.

And where is Grandma? The boy doesn't recognize the young girl asleep in her bed until his grandfather explains that "The people in Heaven are all young once more. They're even more lovely than they were before."

Finally, the saints all make way for a resplendent Jesus to go to the sleeping girl's side and lead her to a chair right next to Our Lady the Queen.

As in all of his books, DeStefano skillfully combines the secular and sacred in Christmas in Heaven, including all the cleaning that goes into such a celebration. Poor St. Martha seems to be shouldering that burden alone until St. Jude steps in and provides a last-minute miracle.

The book will be a meaningful and beautiful gift to all the children and grandparents on your Christmas list, particularly those who have lost a loved one.

You may order Christmas in Heaven using the order form on page 4 as part of a book bundle, or visit ProLifeProducts.org to order it individually.

Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New York or South Dakota, be sure to vote NO on these amendments. If you live in Nebraska, you also have the option of voting yes on an amendment that would protect babies from abortion after 12 weeks. Clearly that is the better of two options in Nebraska.

In preparation for these important votes, Priests for Life hosted a national prayer broadcast in September with representatives from the affected states. Special messages were delivered by Priests for Life National Director Frank Pavone; Ralph Reed of the Faith and Freedom Coalition and David Barton of Wallbuilders.

Prayers also were offered by the leaders of co-sponsoring organizations, including Tim Goeglein, Focus on the Family; Rev. Paul Stallsworth, LifeWatch and National Pro-life Religious Council; Thomas Glessner, National Institute of Family and Life Advocates; Allan Parker, The Justice Foundation; John Yep, Catholics for Catholics, and Dr. Alveda King, Priests for Life.

This election is unlike any we have seen in our nation, with a last-minute substitution for the top of the Democrat ticket and two assassination attempts on the Republican candidate. The differences in the two candidates couldn't be more pronounced. Democrat Kamala Harris wants taxpayer-funded abortion through all three trimesters of pregnancy, and former President Donald Trump wants the states to have jurisdiction over the regulation of abortion.

This election also will decide which party dominates the U.S. House and Senate, and that is of vital importance because the Democrats already have announced their intentions to "reform" the U.S. Supreme Court and pass voting laws that will ensure they never lose another election. If President Trump is re-elected, regulation of abortion will remain with the states, so statewide elections are more important than ever. Make sure to research the candidates and know before you go who will protect babies from abortion and who will not.

There are varying estimates about how many pro-life Americans sit out each election, but this year, we can't afford to miss even one vote.

Please vote, and vote pro-life.

A Pro-life Prayer for Thanksgiving Day

Father of mercies,
God of all creation,
Source of life and of every blessing,
We thank you today, and every day of our lives,
For all that you give us!

Our thanksgiving is not only a duty,
But a joy and a source of strength,
Because it reminds us of your faithful love,
And inspires us with the hope of a future filled with blessings!

Lord, we thank you for guiding our fathers,
Who, inspired by the prophets
And by the saving work of your Son,
Founded a nation where all might live as one,
Acknowledging their dependence on you
As the source of their right to life.

We thank you for your blessings in the past,
And for all that, with your help, we must yet achieve.

We ask you to bless us as we thank you,
That our giving thanks may be accompanied by our firm resolve
To proclaim, celebrate, and serve
The gift of human life, born and unborn.
We pray through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Executive director reaches millions of Bott listeners with a pro-life message

Janet Morana to its studio in Memphis, where she taped several pro-life radio spots to be aired both locally and nationally.

One spot that aired in Missouri in the run-up to the elections concerned the ballot measure that, if it passes, will impose a right to abortion in the Missouri Constitution. Bott has 49 radio stations in Missouri, so Janet's message was heard all around the state.

Janet also was interviewed by Byron Tyler, host of Mid-South Viewpoint, and met with Mid-South Regional Manager Todd Payne about future collaboration.

"It was an honor to be there and I am so grateful to have had a chance to spread the pro-life message," she said.

"Being able to address Missouri voters about Amendment 3, which would bring abortion back to a state where most babies are now protected, was vitally important."
